There has been discovered near Yuba Dam a fugitive sheep, which, in swimming through the muddy water, had become thoroughly covered with "slickers" in which much grass seed had been mixed.
A thick crop of green grass is now growing upon the sheep's back.
Both the sheep and the grass are being carefully guarded, and when the latter has reached its full growth it will be harvested, converted into hay and preserved as one of the California curiosities.

Anticipation and Realization.
Anticipation:
I want to be an author with an A.
Or a journalistic writer with a J.
I'd express my own opinion And have it set in minion.
Nor care a cent for kickers with a K.

Realization:
I'm editor at last with an E.
Soon I may be a tramp with a T.
My ideas are rather scattered,
For my hopes were rudely shattered.
And I'm hungry for Gehenna with a G.
—Boston Post.

The New Cassablanca.

The girl stood on the roller-skates, But then she could not go;
She was afraid to tempt the fates Because she wobbled so.
She called aloud, "Say! Chawley, say!
Do come; help me along!" But Chawley went the other way, for Because his legs went wrong; There came a crash—a thunder sound; The girl, O, where was she?
Ask of the giddy youth around,
Who viewed her hoisery.

McCormac and the Tramp.

Every one who has ever visited Clifton knows the genial John McCormac, "mixologist" at the Coronado Theatre. Mac can tell a good story, sing a song, or write a piece of poetry; he can also dispense more booze (15 cents per booze), and make even change quicker than any barkeeper in Clifton. A few days ago Mac was in neither of the aforesaid moods, sitting by the stove, when an old tramp came in who had already imbibed considerable "jig water." Approaching the bar and seeing no one behind it, he sang out, "Who's runnin' this drunk factory?" Mac got up and went behind the bar, when the tramp said: "Be you the man that dispenses liquid exhilaration from this receptacle of poison?" Mac said "two bits." Said the tramp, "My friend, evidently your greed for gold exceeds your hospitality to the patrons of this liquid dispensary."
"Well, I'll not dispense any drink to you," said Mac, coming from behind the bar; "and stranger, I don't know who you are, what your name is, or where you came from, but evidently your greed far exceeds the money in your pocket.
How are you traveling?" "I am traveling on my good looks," said the tramp. "You are not going very far, are you?" "Why so?"
"Well, I don't know how far you have come, but if you are traveling on your good looks, I don't think you will reach the other side of the street." "Good day," said the tramp, as he passed out of the door and started for another saloon that had a barkeeper he could "brace" with more success.

A North and South Railroad for Arizona.

In an open letter written by C.
T. Hayden, of Maricopa county, to Hon. J. I. Armstrong, member of the Assembly from that county, occurs the following: "Looking north from Flagstaff in this Territory towards Southern Utah, and northeast toward the Southwestern Colorado system of railroads, you have before you the largest coal and iron mines in close proximity to one another in the world, and passing south over the Mineral Belt railroad survey for seventy miles you are crossing the largest body of fine timber on a low mountain plateau in the whole Rocky Mountains of North America. Dipping from this plateau by the East Verde, you soon reach the level plain to this valley, and leading on by continuous outlet through central and southern Arizona to all our cities and mining camps—the most perfect line of distribution that can be found, reaching by its natural connections from Guaymas through Salt Lake to Northern Montana, and in harmony with all practical lateral development of all surrounding interests, developing those coal and timber interests, for the want of which by short and cheap transportation, our mineral and other interests stagnate. The general benefit to all of our citizens that such a railroad and necessary branches leading, for the present, south from Flagstaff would be, presents the most favorable condition for asking a subsidy or aid from the Territorial government."

Free Puffs.
A paper has established the following rates for puffs: To call a man a "progressive citizen," when it is known that he is lazier than a government mule; $1.75.
Referring to a deceased citizen as "a man whose place will remain unfilled," when he knows he is the best poker player in town, $2.
Calling a female "a talented and refined lady, a valuable acquisition to society," with variations, $1.75.
Calling a man a liar during a campaign, to advertise him, 25cts.
To give the fellow against whom you have a grudge a—, is always done for the fun there is in it, when the grudgee agrees to stand at the door with a club to persuade the grudgee the editor is not in.

Dr. W. R. Pike, a prominent Mormon gentleman, and medical director of the Utah Insane Asylum, was asked in Chicago recently, by a reporter, if the visit of President Taylor and Bishop Sharp into the State of Sonora, Mexico, did not indicate a possibility of the exodus of the Mormon people from Utah. He replied "No sir. We are Western men, born and bred in Utah Territory, or else have lived there most of our lives, and we will not be driven away from our homes and our lands. It is probable some few families may emigrate to Mexico, for Utah is getting over-populated and is slopping over, but the Territory is our homes. We redeemed it from a wilderness and have grown with it, and we are not cowards enough to abandon it."

A member of the Canadian Parliament, who recently arrived in Ottawa from British Columbia, states that the recent attempt to establish a local government in Alaska, by the United States, is a perfect farce. The Governor, Judge and several others sent up to the Territory last fall are in Washington. The Territory is run by the Alaska Commercial Company, of San Francisco, whose object is to keep everybody out of the Territory. It is believed that there will be a great rush of miners next season, in view of the valuable deposits discovered last year.

The Nevada legislature has memorialized congress to amend Section 2324 Revised Statutes of the United States—the section governing assessment work—so as to make it optional with the owners of unpatented mines to perform either $100 worth of work per year, as heretofore, or pay into the treasury of any county wherein such mines may be situated the sum of $50 for each mine, the money so paid to go into the school fund.—Tombstone Epitaph.

A Letter from Asencion, the capital of Paraguay, gives the surprising information that of the 300,000 population of the Paraguayan Republic only 30,000—one in ten—are men. The 270,000 women are the farmers, producers and laborers.
They work slavishly and are very poor. While the men sit at home and drink and smoke, the women indefatigably toil and support the families.

The Eureka Sentinel says the church people of Austin are indulging in "mum" socials, but they are not proving popular among the ladies. Several husbands, though, are anxious that they be continued indefinitely. They are willing to accompany their wives on all occasions of the kind. It is bliss indescribable for them.

One of the men arrested on suspicion in London "speaks with an Irish accent and the nasal intonation commonly attributed to the Americans." If we had a navy and Jim Blaine for president that remark would have to be wiped out with gore. The nasal intonation of Americans! The idea!— Chicago Journal.

It has been rumored upon the streets of Butte, M. T., for a few days past, that several, if not all the copper smelters, in the vicinity of Butte and the Anaconda smelter, would shut down in the near future.
